Audits accessibility 1, publishing 4

Deterministic finding: the wording proves the defect.

Heuristic finding: routed to review; this report never asserts that a claim is true or false, or that any legal threshold is met.

This report changes nothing; re-run the checker to verify corrections.

Priority Recommendations derived from the findings above

- UE-HR002 fires 2 times — Malformed wording "could of" — non-standard English form.
- UE-AX001 fires 1 time — Image has no alt attribute.
- UE-EO001 fires 1 time — No <title> element found.
- UE-EO002 fires 1 time — No meta description found.
- UE-EO003 fires 1 time — No canonical link found.
- UE-EO005 fires 1 time — Page is missing Open Graph and Twitter metadata.

Note on characters: this report is set in the standard WinAnsi-encoded fonts, which cover the ASCII and Western European ranges but not every script. A character with no code in that encoding is shown as a question mark, so a question mark in this report may be a character the font cannot draw rather than punctuation in the copy, and two names that differ only in such a character will look alike here. The source file is unchanged, and the JSON output from the same run carries the exact name.
